LOST 40 HOURS IN COAL MINE

SINO-JAPANESE PREPARING FOR WAR TO FINISH

Slender Chance of Peace Remains Between Nations
CRISIS NEARING

BULLETIN
Tokyo, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Domei (Japanese) news agency reported tonight that a major engagement had broken out between Chinese and Japanese troops at Nankow pass, 30 miles northwest of Peiping. The Chinese city of Nankow was said to be in flames.

The city, near the great wall of China, is the gateway from the North China province of Hopeh to the Mongolian province of Chahar.

Both Chinese and Japanese troops had been reported massing in the area after Japanese drove Chinese forces out of Peiping.

Dispatches today said the Japanese encountered troops of the central Chinese army along the Peiping-Suiyuan railway, which runs through Nankow. It was the first report that units of the central army had participated in a major engagement, although central army forces have moved northward since the first Chinese-Japanese clash.

(Chinese reports at Peiping said the Japanese army was being defeated at Nankow pass. Japanese reinforcements were said to be rushing from Peiping to Nankow.)

By JAMES A. MILLS
Tokyo, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The slaying of the Japanese naval officer and seaman at Shanghai was considered today as having gravely compromised whatever slender chance of peace remained between Japan and China.

Japanese officials were avowedly anxious to settle the Shanghai clash through diplomatic channels, lest it be the last step leading to a formally declared war and jeopardize their conquest of North China. The slayings—Japanese charge Chinese guards fired on the two without provocation—were taken, however, as still another indication of the fundamental seriousness of the breach between the two powers.

Disputing Reports
That, added to two disputing reports from China, was believed to indicate the intention of the Chinese government to wage war. The reports were:

Day Affair

STOCK PARADE

The usual calm and quiet along the Kankakee river in Waterman park was punctuated with loud belching and cackling early today as the farm youths of Kankakee county assembled their finest livestock for the annual 4-H club show and fair and eyed a share of $1000 in prize money to be distributed.

Approximately 250 boys and girls from the 10 agricultural 4-H clubs in the county had entries in the livestock divisions, while another 275 girls from 21 home economics 4-H groups exhibited clothing, cookies, fruits, flowers and vegetables.

The fair, which is the first sponsored by the newly organized Kankakee Fair association (not to be confused with the Kankakee Interstate Fair association), will extend over until tomorrow when the annual picnic of the Kankakee county Farm and Home bureaus will be held in the park grounds.

Farm Truck Meet
Judging of livestock by Paul Krows of Sullivan will be completed today and a truck meet for farm boys is scheduled for this afternoon at Kankakee high school's field. At 12:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon the livestock parade will be held along with the judging of clothing and other home economics exhibits.

Other special events will be held in connection with the picnic tomorrow. These include ball games, style show, women's rolling pin throwing and husband calling; men's hog calling; horseshoes, dart throwing, track, tug o' war and other contests.

All livestock exhibited in today's show is the property of the boy or girl showing it. In the fat stock division, all animals shown were born this year; all dairy cattle are purebred; and feeding records are kept up to date, according to project rules.

4-H Objectives
G. N. Curl, superintendent of the agriculture exhibits, together with Farm Adviser George T. Swain and Home Adviser Grace Whittington announced the objectives of the 4-H work as attempting to teach farm boys and girls to:

Local Boy Missing;
Police Broadcast

Kankakee police today were assisting Mr. and Mrs. Grant Gauger, 140 North Schuyler avenue, in a search for their grandson Donald George, 15, who has been missing since Monday morning.

The boy left home without declaring his intentions, although previously he had spoken of visiting his father Robert Torbet, laundry operator of Oklahoma City. Police believe he is hitch-hiking there.

Last night, at the request of the local police, a broadcast was made by the state highway police department.

The boy is five feet three inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has a dark complexion, brown hair and grey eyes. He was wearing an old straw hat with wide brim, a light shirt, white tennis shoes and white socks.

FOUR KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT DAYTONA BEACH

Four persons were killed at Daytona Beach, Fla., when a 14-passenger Eastern Air Lines plane crashed into a newly constructed power line near the airport and fluttered helplessly into a thick. The wreckage is shown here.

Now Just Why Did They Move Seats at the Courthouse?

Those gentlemen who for years have gathered daily along the shady north sidewalk of the courthouse to debate the world's happenings, sometimes with picturesque language, stared in amazement this afternoon for the first time in their lives at a new sight.

Fred Kees, courthouse caretaker who had been ordered to make the change, was hesitant about his explanation. "Just say we wanted to give the boys a new view," he told the reporter.

The real reason was hinted at, however, in the remarks of a woman who stopped to talk with the caretaker while he was at work.

"Are you going to move the benches?" she asked and Keen answered in the affirmative. "That's a great improvement" was her comment.

The benches will be fastened in the new location.

Women Exonerated for Slaying Her Husband Tuesday

Chicago, Aug. 11.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today exonerated Mrs. Ruth Werlein, 35, who police said confessed she shot and killed her husband, George, 46, because he questioned the paternity of their nine-month-old son, David.

The jury returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" after hearing the testimony of Mrs. Werlein's daughter by her first marriage, Shirley Ruth Hall, 9, who said her mother fired only after Werlein had beaten his wife severely.

Police Captain Daniel Lynch said no charges would be placed against Mrs. Werlein and she would be released from police custody immediately.

Mrs. Marie Raber Sues for Divorce

A suit for divorce, by Mrs. Marie Raber of Kankakee against her husband Clayton, was filed today in the office of Circuit Clerk Albert Tetrault by the law firm of Miller & Shapiro.

She charges her husband with extreme and repeated cruelty, the use of obscene and abusive language and personal violence.

They were married in 1935 and lived together until this month, the complaint states. There are no children. Mrs. Raber asks the right to resume her maiden name of Marie Harvey.

INVESTIGATION OF AIRLINER'S CRASH STARTED

Power Pole Near Airport at Daytona Beach is Cause

Daytona Beach, Fla., Aug. 11.—(AP)—A power pole was the center of an investigation today into the crash of an Eastern Airlines plane that killed four persons.

The plane, a Chicago-Miami passenger ship, smashed into the pole just before dawn yesterday and dived into a palmetto hammock.

Five persons were injured in the wreck, first major accident in Eastern Airlines history.

First to claim investigators' attention was the story of Peter Dygert, airport manager, that the pole was erected near the end of the runway during the night without notice to airport officials. He said neither he nor Stuart G. Dietz, pilot of the plane who died in the wreck, knew of the power line's existence.

Officials of the Florida Power and Light company, whose employees erected the pole, hurried here yesterday but none of them was available for comment.

In addition to Dietz, the dead were Robert R. Reed, co-pilot, and two passengers, J. Triana, Mexico City, and J. H. Phillips, Kingston, Jamaica.

Alaskan Plane Safe
Port London, Wash., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Search for an Alaskan Airways seaplane, which carried nine persons including two women and two children and as unreported for 30 hours, ended abruptly last night when the plane was found riding safely at anchor here while the passengers enjoyed a visit with relatives.

They had neglected to inform company officials of their stop-over and an alarm had been sent to all U. S. coast guard stations in the northwest and to officials of the British Columbia. The coast guard already had begun a search for the plane.

Pilot Tony Schwamm said he was forced to land because the plane struck a flock of seagulls and a propeller was damaged. Port Ludlow is only 30 miles from Seattle, where the plane took off at 3 p. m. Monday. Passengers aboard included Carl Anderson, president of Alaskan Airways, Mrs. Anderson, the two Anderson children and their woman tutor.

One Square Mile of Land Sinking

Buhl, Idaho, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Almost before eyes of watchers a land area approximately one mile square is sinking away. Farmers in the area eight miles from here are hastily harvesting crops.

"I cut grain in the new valley all day, at times within six paces of the edge where fissures several feet wide were opening and you could actually see the land sinking," said Farmer H. A. Robertson.

Iroquois County Board Nominates 5 for Pension Job

Watseka, Aug. 11.—(RN Special)—Five residents of Iroquois county were nominated for the office of Iroquois county superintendent of public welfare at a meeting of the county board here Tuesday. These names are to be submitted to the state department for selection of the superintendent.

From a list of 33 applicants, the five chosen by the board were: Mrs. Margaret Keller, head of NYA in Watseka; Supervisor Walter "Bud" Curtis of Loda; Bert Lester of Crescent City; Mrs. Vivian Harkins, widow of C. H. Harkins, former Iroquois county surveyor; and Miss Irene Freed of Pittwood.

Because of lack of sufficient funds, the board voted down the proposal to condemn land along the Dixie highway through this county to widen the route for four-lane traffic as is now in progress between Danville and Milford.

4 Couples File Notices to Marry

Notices of intention to apply for marriage licenses were filed yesterday in the office of County Clerk Walter J. Richert by four Kankakee county couples. They are:

Members of the school board have been notified by Mr. Loos that he was offered a better position in New York City and that he accepted.

Mr. Loos was hired several months ago to succeed R. P. Welker who resigned to take another position. A new superintendent has not been hired, school directors said.

Piersol Gets High Honor From Kiwanis

Extraordinary recognition of the Kankakee Kiwanis club and one of its most active members was made known today.

President Vernon McBroom announced that George Piersol, song leader of the club and director of the Kankakee school bands, has been named chairman of the Kiwanis international music committee by F. Trafford Taylor of Winnipeg, Canada, president of Kiwanis International.

Mr. Piersol will have charge of the music program for the Kiwanis international convention next summer at San Francisco. He will confer with the international president soon in Chicago relative to the program.

The song leader, who is one of the most enthusiastic members of Kankakee Kiwanis, was appointed to membership of the international music committee last year.

This is the first time that a Kankakee Kiwanian has been honored with leadership of an international committee, in fact Piersol's recognition last year as a member of such a committee was regarded as an outstanding achievement.

President McBroom said that Piersol's appointment is deserved and one in which the club will take pride.

MINER EMERGES FROM WORKINGS TO TELL STORY

Rescuers Searched
Under Ground for Many Miles

LOST THE TRAIL

Marion, Ill., Aug. 11.—(AP)—Jesse Wilson, 28, lost in the abandoned workings of an old mine near here for nearly forty hours, walked unaided from the slope today while 30 rescuers searched for him. Suffering from a gash on the head, he was rushed in an ambulance to the Herin, Ill., hospital.

The mine owner, who had wandered nearly a mile from his own mine into the labyrinth of tunnels in the old Peabody No. 3 workings, found his own way out. He walked around the rescue workers and out of the slope.

Wilson said he had been in the dark, wandering through the old tunnels, almost the entire time he was in the mine. His carbide lamp went out while he was in the old workings, about 100 feet underground.

Injury Not Serious
How he obtained the gash on the head was not determined immediately. He asked to be taken home, but fellow miners took him to the hospital, where his injuries were reported not serious.

Volunteers were still searching for Wilson when a runner was sent underground to inform them Wilson was safe.

The volunteers picked up Wilson's trail late last night. About a mile within the old mine, in a maze of tunnels, they found his lead pencil and carbide he had dumped from his lamp. Then they traced his footprints for quite a distance, but lost the trail.

Wilson had been missing since 3 p. m. Monday, when he did not emerge from the slope with the five men who had accompanied him underground that morning.

Tells Dramatic Story
At the Herin hospital, Wilson told attendants:

"I'm hungry. I'm hungry. Get me something to eat."

He had not eaten since lunch Monday.

Propped in a hospital bed, Wilson told the dramatic story of his wanderings, dazed, through the old mine, after his lamp went out. He had gone into the old Peabody workings which connect with his own mine, to examine a section of coal. He said he would have found his way out without difficulty, but something extinguished his lamp.

"I don't know how I hurt my head," he said. "I bumped into something. I think it must have been a piece of coal which fell from the—"

Boy Flees After Running Into Car

An unidentified child, about four years old, was involved in an accident as a pedestrian last evening but apparently was not injured, according to a report at police headquarters.

W. S. Cole, 725 South Wildwood avenue, told the police he was driving west on Court street at 8 p. m. when the child ran out from behind another car and ran into the side of his auto.

The boy ran away immediately, he said, and could not be found although Cole spent a half hour in search.

Watseska to Have Beautiful Float in Danville Parade

Watseska, Aug. 11.—(RN Special)—A delegation will gather here at 10 o'clock the morning of Aug. 18, at the west side of the courthouse lawn, to make the trip to Danville and join in a tribute to the memory of Guerdon S. Hubbard, pioneer trader and trail blazer of eastern Illinois.

Watseska will have a float prepared for a big parade in Danville beginning at 1 o'clock. Automobiles from this city will be labeled with windshield cards bearing the name Watch-e-kee, the Indian wife of Hubbard for whom Watseska is named.

Before leaving for Danville, the float and accompanying cars will parade through Watseska's business district.

In view of the fact that Hubbard was the first white settler in Iroquois county, it is expected that a large number of Iroquois county traders and trail blazers of eastern Illinois will make the trip so that the community may be properly represented at the celebration.

COURT MEASURE TO ROOSEVELT; FINAL CHAPTER

Bitter Controversy is Ended; Major Provisions

MUCH CONFUSION

Washington, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The bitter controversy today by approving the lower court procedure bill and sending it to the White House. The legislation was embodied in a conference report which the Senate had adopted yesterday without a word of debate.

Deleted from the measure were provisions of the Supreme Court relating to the Supreme Court. The cause of a bitter Senate fight in the House.

Chairman Sumners (D-Tex.) of the Judiciary committee, presented the conference report and made a brief statement explaining the measure.

A quorum call, insisted upon by Representative Fish (N.Y.), brought 357 of the 435 members to the floor. Twice during a reading of the measure, Speaker Bankhead stopped proceedings to rap for order. He told members there was too much confusion and talking on the floor.

It is believed this legislation will be welcomed and supported by the courts of the country. Sumners said.

The bill followed closely the agreement reached by Senate leaders when the Roosevelt high court proposals were introduced. It contained four major points:

Direct appeal from lower courts to the Supreme Court in cases involving the constitutionality of acts of Congress.

Intervention by the attorney general in lower court cases involving constitutionality of acts of Congress.

Three-judge lower courts to sit in suits for injunction to block enforcement of acts of Congress.

Transfer of judges, within judicial circuits, to meet congestion.

Shen, the Chinese premier and his cabinet, has completed his preparations for hostilities and is now making Beijing and Tientsin in an effort to recapture them from the Japanese army.

China is prepared to move its capital from Nanking inland to Chungking for greater safety and has already made final arrangements for the move.

China was said here to be completing the movement of Chinese troops to the north along the Hankow to Peiping and Peking to Weinan railroads. This movement has been going on since the first clash over the rich North China region occurred on July 7 and was being completed by the Japanese army in the north and south.

Simultaneously, the generalissimo, described by foreign military experts as one of the greatest strategists in the world, is moving large forces from the north along the Peiping-Suiyuan railroad and into the vicinity of Peiping.

Shanghai, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Chinese government today announced that it had ordered the first fleet dropped anchor off Shanghai, China's greatest commercial city, today and immediately landed a detachment of 500 marines to reinforce Japanese garrison here.

Thanks and other mechanized equipment of war were hurried ashore. Two steamers were loaded for use in getting an airfield into shape as a base for operations.

The hurried voyage of the first fleet across the China sea from Canton was led by twelve destroyers and three light cruisers. They steamed up the Yangtze river in the early morning to the confluence of the Yangtze and the Whangpoo.

There six of the destroyers dropped anchor under the shadow of the Wuhan bridge. The Japanese fleet turned up the Whangpoo and tied up off the Japanese quarter.

The marines were first landed on the outskirts of the city and then the mechanized equipment was rolled ashore.

Until the arrival of the Japanese fleet, tension had been somewhat relaxed here after a clash between Chinese and Japanese at the air base at 293 North Washington avenue. The body is at the Reur funeral home.

BATTLE FLEET READY TO ACT OFF SHANGHAI

Vanguard of Japan's Sea Force Nears Chinese Coast

TENSION GROWS

By JOHN R. MORRIS
Copyright, 1937, by United Press
Shanghai, Aug. 11.—(UP)—A Japanese cruiser and destroyer, vanguard of a battle fleet, arrived with reinforcements at Shanghai today after a race at full speed across the China sea from Japan.

Eighteen more warships, loaded with bluejackets, were expected at any hour, Japanese sources said.

As soon as the first two ships dropped anchor off the international settlement Japanese navy authorities confiscated all Japanese owned trucks in Shanghai.

Most reliable informants said the fleet left Japanese ports secretly and that it brought 6,000 picked men who would bring the Japanese force available for a landing party to a total of 9,000.

It was said also that men of one additional division, now in Japan but not previously mobilized, had been ordered to stand by ready to come to China.

Action Imminent?
Japanese believed that action was imminent. Japanese informants said that navy authorities here awaited only the arrival of the main body of their reinforcements to hand the Chinese a series of stringent demands, probably in ultimatum form, based on the killing of a Japanese navy officer and a seaman in a fight near the Chinese airdrome in the Hungjiao suburb.

News from all over China was of the gravest sort.

Both Japan and China made plans to evacuate thousands of their citizens from each other's territory.

Northwest of Peiping two United Press staff correspondents watched preparations for an imminent Japanese attack on Chinese masses there, the latest big formal battle of the campaign.

At Peiping United States and other marines went on guard at the Soviet Russian embassy after receipt of reports that White Russians—allegedly agents of Japanese—might seek to raid it as they did the Russian consulate general at Tientsin.

But the situation here was one of immediate gravity.

Just before noon, the Japanese cruiser and destroyer steamed up the Whangpoo river past the ancient Chinese forts and dropped anchor near the Japanese Nippon Yusen Kaisha wharves off the international settlement.

Landing Party
Japanese sources said that in addition to their usual complements, the two warships carried two battalions of bluejackets organized as a landing party.

The remainder of a battle fleet was expected here during the day. Chinese sources reported that the government had notified Chinese residents in Japan to concentrate at Yokohama, Kobe and Nagasaki, the principal ports, ready to be embarked on six specially chartered Chinese steamships for China.

It was reported that many or all of the 20,000 Chinese residing on Formosa island, the Japanese possession off the southeast coast of China, would be evacuated.

Chinese dispatches reported that all Japanese women and children would be evacuated from Tientsin, strategic port up the coast from Shanghai, by this week-end and that the able bodied Japanese men would remain as a volunteer corps, ready to aid any Japanese seamen or troops landed there.

Arrival of the Japanese warships lent sudden, dramatic emphasis to a meeting of navy chiefs in Tokyo yesterday. These high officers, meeting under Vice Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, navy minister, decided to take punitive action against Chinese at Shanghai unless they received satisfaction for the killing of the two navy men at the Hungjiao airdrome.

Now it seemed that at the same time they dispatched a war fleet, for information here was that all ships involved in the reinforcement race had left Japan within the last 24 hours.

An atmosphere of electric tension spread through the international settlement. Already tens of thousands of terrified Chinese were sheltered there, fearing a repetition of the "war" of 1932 when a Japanese army and navy shelled and bombed the city.

Chinese sources reported that four Japanese light cruisers and three destroyers, all carrying reinforcements, were anchored down the Whangpoo river.

It was learned that Nils Aal, Norwegian consul general and senior member of the consular corps, sent letters to the Japanese consul general and the mayor of Shanghai asking in the name of the corps that the Shanghai area be made neutral territory in event of war. Aal denied this officially, but the United Press received confirmation from an authentic source.
